Sanctuary Repainting. It is now time to repaint the sanctuary, lower corridor, and the toilets. We will use a colour consultant to select the new colour scheme for these areas. If you have any strong views about colour selection that you feel the consultant needs to know - please send them either as a written note or by e-mail to me within the next week.

Safeguarding Training On Saturday 1st December at 10.00am-12.15pm there will be a Full Safeguarding course run here at the church. This is aimed at everyone in our church who volunteers with children/young people and/or vulnerable adults. This is for anybody who has never done a course or hasn't done one since 2012. There will be Refresher courses in the new year for those who need them.

Please let me know whether you can attend in the next few weeks. Please speak to me if you are unsure whether you need to do this course.

1918 – 2018 Armistice Commemoration I was privileged to "curate" a display/exhibition on WMC members' memories of their relatives. I was very pleased to receive over 26 people's typed and handwritten memories of their relatives' service in WWI and WW2, with photos, medals and even an engraved WW2 shell case, "trench art" I am told. These are on display at the back of the sanctuary and I recommend trying to have a look at them before or after the services. It will be displayed until Sunday 18th November.

What was particularly interesting to me was the large variety of services which people found themselves engaged in. And countries too: Turkey (Gallipoli), Greece, Thailand. Not just France and Belgium.
